"Billy" Hogan Taken by Death As He Nears 100

Marion Resident for 65 Years Had Unusual Life History.

William "Billy" Hogan for many years a Mar- stone mason home builder and real estate dealer died Thursday at the home of a daughter Mrs. M. E. Flaherty in Los Angeles, Calif. He was less than five weeks to achieve his ambition to celebrate his one hundredth birthday anniversary which would have come July 18.

Mr. Hogan's interesting story of his experience while serving seven years in the English navy and of his work as a stone mason of unusual ability, a dozen of cities are remembered by hundreds of Marion residents with whom he became acquainted while making his home here for nearly 65 years.

Mr. Hogan was the father of Mrs. C. C. E. wife of former Sheriff C. C. E. and of Will Hogan of Marion. His body will be brought to Marion Monday for burial in St. Mary's cemetery. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Built Flats Castle
Mr. Hogan was the builder of Flats Castle a show place near West Liberty, O. and he helped in construction of many buildings in numerous cities traveling to all parts of the country to work for months at a time while making his home here.

A remarkable memory and an unusual education acquired by extensive reading throughout his lifetime made him an interesting raconteur. In an interview given in March of 1928 with a reporter for The Star Mr. Hogan discussed the prospects of war between the United States and Spain and told some of his experiences while in the English navy. In the interview and in conversations with his relatives here he has told of the strict discipline of navy life of three quarters of a century ago describing incidents that his acquaintances said were equal to those given in the story of Mutiny on the Bounty. Mr. Hogan was a member of one crew that deserted an English ship at a South American port.

Your Health BY DR. E. S. COPELAND

No Sun Substitute.

Sunlight is essential to the maintenance of life. It is often compared to food. In fact, sunlight really is a food. It has a definite action upon certain processes of the body. Without sunlight certain vitamins are rendered valueless.

For years artificial devices have been developed as a substitute for
sun. They are indeed wonderful, but in all truth, there is no real substitute for the sun.

The beneficial effect of the rays of the sun is only obtained by direct exposure to its rays. Even if the sunlight goes through ordinary window glass, the ultra-violet rays, the most important rays, filtered out and the good effect is materially lessened.

A person who obtains a half hour or more of sunlight each day is lucky. Even this short exposure gives the ultra-violet rays time to protect him from many ailments.
When we do not obtain sufficient sunlight the body draws upon the vitamin reserves of the tissues and, unless these reserves are restored by food or otherwise, disease may occur.

As the warm weather comes and the sunlight becomes stronger, it is wise to avoid undue exposure.
Prolonged exposure results in irritation and sometimes severe sunburn. This may prove to be disabling.

To guard against the excessive action of the sun rays, obtain your protective coat of tan. This is best accomplished in the beginning by short exposure of the body to the sun. The periods of sun basking can be gradually increased day by day.

I cannot overstate the value of sun to the growing child. Since sunlight helps to supply the body with an adequate supply of vitamin D, children can discontinue taking their cod liver oil during the summer months. This vitamin is essential to the building of strong bones and teeth, and the ultra-violet ray helps develop it.

Scientists are more and more aware of the value of sunlight and of the rays found in it. During recent years certain foods have been exposed to the beneficial effects of the ultra-violet ray. These are spoken of as "irradiated foods."
During the winter months when ex-posure to the sun is lacking, these have their place, no doubt, but in summer "Old Sol" gives you health with no charge for it.

CARDINGTON WATER PROJECT UNDER WAY

Workmen Tunnel Under Three Railroad Crossings To Lay Steel Pipes.

Special to The Star. CARDINGTON, June 12.—Work on the water works system is well under way this week with workmen tunneling under the three Big Four railroad crossings. A 12 inch steel pipe is being laid six feet under the tracks. The main will be placed inside the pipe and packed in sand to cushion vibrations caused by the trains.

Construction of the water main will start at the wells on the J. B. Costa farm north of here. A course of six inch steel pipe will be laid from the wells to the stand-pipe at the rear of the Nazareth church. The course of the six inch main will be from under the railroad at Williams street down Hall street and North Marion street to the rear of the business buildings on the north side of East Main street thence down the alley to Main street and then on the south side of the street to the square where the main will be laid in the east side of Marion street to Second street and to the stand-pipe.

Other mains in town will be laid with a four inch iron pipe. The pipe was unloaded on North and South Marion streets last week.

Ten local men have been assigned for work by Frank Hart, national reemployment manager for the county. Work is expected to be completed in 3 months.

The Stars Say--

For Saturday, June 13

ACCORDING TO the prevailing planetary influences, this should be a lively day with possible change of travel. A removal would be of benefit, with fresh fields of operation welcome. However, there are signs of stubborn obstacles or impediments to be overcome, or there may be a leave-taking or the illness of an elderly person to cause delays or postponements.

Those whose birthday it is may have a year of fresh opportunities for travel, removal, change of new contracts, and while there may be very lively and fairly encouraging conditions, yet there may be obstacles or impediments to be taken in hand before decisive action.

A child born on this day may be versatile and talented, with ingenuity and skill in unusual channels. It may be fond of change and travel, as well as adventure and romance.

It's 10-YEAR ECONOMY that counts

There are all kinds of ways to make you think you're saving money. In refrigeration there's only one way that counts. That's actual operating proof. A day isn't enough. Nor ten days. Nor a year. It's ten-year economy that makes a refrigerator a "buy". And that's where super-sealed insulation, all-steel cabinet construction, and precision manufacturing put Westinghouse Golden Jubilee Refrigerators way out in front with users who buy on FACTS. If you're interested in real savings come in and see these facts and figures for yourself.

A Different Situation.

Today the Women's Christian Temperance Union meets in Tulsa, Okla., for its 62nd annual convention.

The W. C. T. U. chose the Oklahoma city mainly because in July the state will hold an election in which repeal will be the all important issue. By meeting in a dry spot which is threatening to go wet, the ladies hope to promote their cause in a tangible fashion.

More significant, perhaps, is the reflection that the ladies will get into action before the Republican convention flashes its business and starts its campaign. But for the first time in many years, the W. C. T. U. will notice, their cause, the prohibition issue, is not agitating the politicians gathered at the convention of a major party. Repeal has come and the party men are considering other questions.

But as the ladies doubtless will testify, repeal has come but the liquor problem remains. They are not likely to miss the chance of pointing out that political promises to banish the saloon remain just political promises. Probably they will weigh their arguments for Oklahoma's continuing dry by citing examples of how wide and open the saloon—in taverns—now is in many other states. Next month the effect on Oklahoma of their shrewd preaching will be revealed.

Sirens.

Last Sunday's papers carried stories about a fearful plague that is to descend upon the nation. The 17 year locusts were about to invade America and to strip bare countless twigs and branches of trees.

Details in the story tested the credulity of all but inveterate fiction readers. It just didn't seem possible that the larvae of these insects slipped from branches a few weeks after being laid there, that they developed legs and boring apparatus and then began burrowing into the ground. Nor did it appear believable when one read how these locusts—cicadas to the scientists—matured through the 17 years they remained underground. The knockout blow came when it was asserted the cicadas emerge only after the end of 17 years, usually about the same time of the year and always around 5 o'clock in the evening.

Mythification gave way to total incredulity—but a Baltimore paper has changed all that. Since the middle of May a brood of cicadas, probably an early variety, has been floating around that city, piercing the air with that abnormally loud alien call they possess. They're expected to stay at least another 30 days.

No reports of damage done by the invading horde have been received yet. They probably will come. Meanwhile, thanks can be given that nature is considerate to the extent of visiting such plagues upon us only once every 17 years. Some lesser plagues are always with us.

Still Some Hope.

In declaring that the possibilities of plastics which can be made from farm products for use in industry are "the greatest in the world," Henry Ford possibly is foreseeing the unfolding of another drama in the history of industrial development.

As Mr. Ford points out, fiber gears have been found superior to metal gears for some moving parts. Other opportunities for turning waste agricultural materials into tough, easily molded substances for metal are being seized upon by various Ford manufacturing plants. The automobile manufacturer envisions astounding developments for the whole plastics industry.

He is not without authority for his prophecy. Commentators upon business and industry have spent much time analyzing and proclaiming a brilliant future for the industry. Numerous new plastics companies in Ohio are enjoying good business.

At the moment, the significance of these prophecies is not whether they shall be substantiated in the future. Rather, it is most heartening to reflect that industrial America always is searching for new products and ideas that will open more economic gates. Just as the automobile brought undreamed of prosperity and shot America to the top of the industrial nations, so may other developments give rise to new hopes and expansion.

Radio gave industry a healthful shot in the arm. The airplane industry is contributing its share of vitamins to the industrial body and will continue to increase its contribution. Televisions and plastics lie ahead. Then something else. Apparently, there still is reason for hoping American industry will continue to find its own way out of the woods, if permitted to do so.

Recommendations.

In presenting Part 6 of its findings, the senate munitions committee urges strengthening of existing neutrality legislation and suggests there to be followed in discussing factors that endanger America's neutral status.

Principally the committee is interested in curbing financial commitments which, it might be widely conceded, tend to involve the United States in struggles from which it should remain aloof. To this end, the committee recommends strengthening the loan and credit provisions of the 1935 neutrality act in such a way as to prevent the extension of large credits to belligerents by private banks. In addition, the necessity is seen for preventing in this country the flotation of bonds by non-belligerents, the proceeds of which could be diverted to belligerent purposes.

To back up these financial planks, the committee proposes reinforcement and clarification of embargo provisions and shows the need for international law to define such terms as "armed merchantman."

Few persons will challenge the findings of the committee. Widespread agreement also might be obtained upon their recommendations. But many persons will realize that peace advocates still will have a big assignment on their hands even if neutrality legislation is strengthened. It is encouraging to believe that peace-minded persons now recognize that eternal vigilance must be their watchword.

Chronic Appendicitis.

Postmen staggered under the Congressional Record for June 8. Possibly they thought congress transacted a lot of important business that day.

The truth is that both houses had brief sessions preparatory to a recess during the Republican convention. Approximately 50 pages were taken up with legislative matters. The remainder, approximately 75 pages, was devoted to the well known Appendix.

There were articles in praise of the gentlemen who caused them to be printed in the Record. There were articles in praise of newspaper editorialists, copies of speeches, long lists of names and elaborate tables.

Why were all these things printed? Who is going to read them? In case the answer has been forgotten, it might be well to recall it once more. Congressmen, once they have obtained unanimous consent "to extend their remarks" in the Congressional Record have the privilege of sending out the same material for campaign purposes at the government's expense.

It has been going on for years—the country's most prolonged case of chronic appendicitis.

A Pleasant Arrangement.

It's all settled now. After battling for weeks in the courts over their right to weaker affection upon Freddie, juvenile movie star, the Bartholemews have signed an agreement.

Freddie's paternal aunt, Miss Mary Millicent Bartholemew, will continue as legal guardian but mother and father will move in on the boy star and live with him indefinitely. Attorneys refused to divulge details of the settlement, but it is assumed that Freddie's salary will be the main prop and support of the Bartholemew clan.

American hearts which bled over the spectacle of Mrs. Bartholemew, a mother, being torn from the loving embrace of her son, might feel immediately healed. They will realize that in the howm of such a happy family Freddie can receive nothing but the devotion and love which will nurture in him the finer inner qualities that stamp a sensitive nature.

Cynics might retort that Freddie has received—exactly nothing. He might even have to ask meekly for a nickel for an ice cream cone.

A Chap Just Can't.

Britons are famed for their conservatism in dress. As the male of the species might put it, a chap just can't follow every fad and notion that springs up overnight.

Yet frequently those blackcoated men have followed the latest fashion louches as displayed by King Edward, then prince of Wales. But just the other day they stumped them. Apparently choosing one of those not so frequent afternoons on which the sun was shining brilliantly, he sailed forth in a straw sailor.

An American who has visited England in the summer time will testify, English men just don't wear sailors. Mostly, the climate is given as the reason. But when King Edward set the fashion, hatters rubbed their hands in anticipation of good business and sent in their orders to the factories. Soon the stores were bulging with sailors.

Late reports indicate the shelves still are groaning under the weight of unsold sailors—if the hats are heavy enough to make anything but Englishmen groan. Loyal Britons would follow their king through fire and water, but to expect they would break tradition and wear straw hats because he did, that was asking too much. A chap just can't.

Convention Serious And Businesslike

Delegates Serious-Minded Men and Women Intent on Business With Little Time for the Spectacular.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—This has been a dignified, earnest, purposeful convention—neither a carnival nor a circus nor a spectacular show.

The crowds in the galleries wanted amusement, combat, demonstration. But the delegates who came to the Republican convention were for the most part serious-minded men and women who were more businesslike than theatrical. Hence some newspaper accounts will discuss how the affair "dragged," how "dull" it was and how lacking in "color."

But when the serious problems of the nation are considered there is no time for fun-making and the absurd parades of banners and artificially stimulated demonstrations.

This convention came here to pick the man who seemed best equipped to win votes and capture the election. They believe Landon is that man. The delegates exude a confidence of triumph in November which was quite a surprise to "defeatist" writers who have assumed the election was all over and that the Roosevelt-Fairley ticket would not even have to make a campaign.

While the platform covered many topics, the conversation among the delegates indicated clearly that they mean to make the prime issue of this campaign—the fiscal condition of the government and the reckless spending.

The keynote is "Three Long Years," which was taken up by the delegates as a theme song. It refers, of course, to President Roosevelt's speech of March 10, 1933, in which he said: "For three long years the federal government has been on the road to bankruptcy."

Mr. Roosevelt, in that message to congress, referred to the deficits of the Hoover administration and said that, with the year 1934, they would amount to $5,000,000,000. Now it turns out that the deficits of the Roosevelt administration will amount to $11,000,000,000. There is little comfort in deficits anyway, but the argument is that, if the Roosevelt administration has produced recovery why have the deficits risen and why are they continuing after recovery is here or well on the way?

Some of the Democrats are already saying that, if the Republicans want to make an issue of "Three Long Years," it can be Hoover's three long years, too. But the Republicans are answering that the American people have learned how to count and that eleven billions is more than twice as much as five billions, especially when recovery is supposed to have become an accomplished fact.

There is no doubt that facts and figures on the government spending constitute the most vulnerable point in Democratic armor. Obviously the "Smear Landon" campaign is already in the making at Democratic publicity headquarters, which believes in that sort of thing. Likewise there will be flaws to pick in the Republican platform, though, to be sure, the Democrats have paid little attention in their 1932 platform, so they can hardly have much debate on platform principles.

The so-called liberalism or progressivism is too abstract to bring into understandable terms, just as constitutionalism is hardly likely to become sufficiently concrete for stump speeches. There is, on the other hand, a tendency here to make an issue of what is described as Roosevelt dictatorship, with corollary practices in government as the target of attack. So much for the purely political warfare. The disinterested bystander will give up at the way conventions do their work—both Republican and Democratic. It is much too hurried and confusing. The last-minute compromises to get agreement in the resolutions committee are tragic. But that's the convention system as it has gone on for generations.

Glancing Backward

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Saturday, June 12, 1926. Veterans of the Rainbow division, Ohio World war unit meeting in Marion, selected Chillicothe as the place for the 1927 meeting. George M. Ward of Columbus was elected president.

Miss Helen Maffey of near Marion and James N. Andrews of Fairground street were united in marriage by Rev. Earl L. Holliday at the Emmanuel Baptist church.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Monday, June 12, 1916. President Wilson completed his draft of the Democratic platform and forwarded the final installment to the Democratic national committee in session at St. Louis.

The Austro-Hungarian front in Bukovina had been snatched by the Russian troops, who were moving on Chernovitz, the capital. The Russians had taken about 110,000 prisoners.

Behind the News

Spotlight Turned on Cleveland G. O. P. Convention.

BY PAUL MALLON

CLEVELAND, O., June 12.—It has not yet been disclosed officially, but you may accept it as such, that Gov. Landon sent to his platform makers here on three separate occasions a demand, that they adopt a definite fixed gold standard plank.

The first came through his platform emissary, William Allen White, who brought the first copy of the Landon money views. Twice later by telephone and teletype he sent in planks the word "gold" specifically.

The wrangling platform makers thought they knew better. Their final vote was not even close and was taken in the face of knowledge that Landon would publicly repudiate them.

Of course they had their eyes on the western silver states and the eastern farm groups who favor other money methods.

Liberalism The gold trouble is the only serious disturbance which has yet arisen here. It caused practically all the delay in the report of the platform committee. The other objections to the platform as cited by Landon in his message were not severely contested.

In general, the Landonites are, privately, as well satisfied with the document as he stated publicly in his message. They thought they would have more trouble than they did with some of their liberal ideas, particularly that one sentence which they finally slipped in, stating:

"We favor also federal regulation of the interstate activities of public utilities."

Strategy The inside management of this convention seems to have been as smart as that of Farley at Chicago four years ago, and smarter than in any other Republican convention of late years.

Political rail sitters here consider that a most important point. The question uppermost in their minds from the start has not been the nomination of Landon. They thought that was a clinch for weeks. Also they generally believe that the platform is always written in the personality of the candidate rather than in the words which are threshed out of compromises in platform committees.

The big thing they wanted to find out here is whether the new Republican leadership is a match for the Democrats. Nothing done here would be effective unless it is.

The answer is fairly well indicated by the fact that this has been an unusually well handled political rally, that personal bitterness has been kept down comparatively well and harmony promoted by personal sacrifice. The result was equally as good a job as the handling of the pre-convention Landon campaign.

Conciliation For example, it can now be told that Gov. Landon and his manager, John Hamilton, originated the idea of bringing Hoover to address the convention. Likewise, they worked out the strategy of letting all their opponents, the bitter and the sweet, have their hours in the sun. And then when the time came for Landon to put his foot down on the platform committee, which was getting out of hand, he did it swiftly but quietly.

They had many of opportunities to stab their foe, far more chances than outsiders will ever know. Also they were in the saddle from the start and could have ridden a higher horse.

Their choice of tactics affords a good insight into what the new leadership is like.

Logic The reason the Landonites want Vandenberg so much is because he fills the needs of their political situation better than any one else. They want a man upon whom they can rely for heavy campaign duty, frequent speeches, wide traveling.

(Most of the Landon advisers believe it would not be a good idea for the governor to go running around the country making speeches daily.)

But, above all, Vandenberg's main contribution to the ticket would be just the touch of Scotch it needs.

Ohio Oddities

BY R. C. HALL

West Union, county seat of Adams county, has the distinction of being the only county seat in Ohio—one out of eighty-eight, that is not located on a railroad. Of course it was chosen as the county seat long before there were any railroads and largely because of its comparatively central location in the county.

Manchester, originally Massie's Station on the Ohio river, had a better claim to it, so far as travel and trade were concerned, but West Union won after a stirring contest. But it never won a railroad.

Squeezing the handle of a new food serving spoon causes a bowl to open like tongs to grasp articles to be served.

Harlem's biggest sentimental barroom is for the poet, Paul Laurence Dunbar—a busy-looking bank, several societies and sundry enterprises bear his name. Dunbar was a sort of assistant rooster about a newspaper shop where I worked in Dayton, O., expressing the frailty that presaged his early demise. He often left poems on various desks. None took them seriously because we didn't know poetry nor had any of us apparently the knack of sighting genius two feet away.

Gone, too, is the picturesque shepherd with his roaming flock that gave such a quaint Biblical touch to the wide sweep of south meadow. The white-bearded shepherd with his $10,000 Collier, the gift of the elder J. T. Morgan, posed for many years. His likeness hangs in the National Gallery. There was a golden pool in the park, that 5 to 6 interlude, when the sun hung a mocking ball of red fire, trembled a while, dipped as southward Broadway hazed pink in sudden electric glow!

Now that we have had a good cry over Central Park, we'd like to break down awhile over Broadway's plight, but we are all out of crying towels.

New York Notes

O. O. McIntyre's Diary of Fact, Fancy and Folks.

NEW YORK, June 12.—Thoughts while strolling: Most strangers glance at Al Smith's head the first thing. Looking for that brown derby. Thinking you somehow grow to like: Fred Allen's sandpaper voice. Broadway's new sign king, the young southern boy, Douglas Leigh. Who came to town with an idea.

Types: The sort who depend on the Book of the Month club to select their reading. Not many more popular figures in radio than John R. Royall. Flashiest of baseball dudes: Lefty Gomez. Never had a Scotsman disappoint me. Saddest figure in New York—Nancy Titterton's husband.

Sigmund Spaeth swings along as though about to miss a train. Ad veteran columnist: Charles Leedy, of Youngstown, O., has been in it 31 years. Nobody can frazzle us a cigar like Rupert Hughes. A Time for Elsa Maxwell to pop up with something else again.

Maybe Mark Twain was right: "Man is the only animal that blushes. Or needs to." Woe-begone-est of the expressions—that of Zasu Pitts. The Era of the Dying Spat. Canes go, then spats. It's the day of the tweedy boys with aebra blazers, shorts and buckskin shoes. I can't remember that comic panel group of the middle west—Everett True? Maury Paul bob-bobbin' along. New York's better dressed women are never in those "Best Dressed Women" lists. The front of the Hotel Roosevelt always makes me hungry. Looks so marble cakey.

The northeast corner of Central park which skirts Harlem's two main arteries, 74th and Lenox avenues, is now almost solely frequented by Negroes. The green-sward is dotted with frolicking pickaninnies and the lake edged with sail boat enthusiasts. At sundown the dicky promenaders Duke Ellington, Bill Robinson and Cab Calloway who give a rainbow sheen to Lenox now include this corner of the park in their vespertine stroll. There is a pinkish ice concoction hawked for 3 cents called "Lollipop" —a sundae on a stick that is hawked for 3 cents.

Incidentally, I hear Amos 'n' Andy are not as popular in Harlem as in most sections. Elders seem to enjoy the programs but the younger element thinks the travesties an unfair picture of what the Youth Movement calls the Modern Negro. Yet I noticed last evening in passing through Harlem many loud speakers at the 7 p. m. time were going full blast with this feature. There are several lunch stands, bars and novelty shops named for the radio comics.

Harlem's biggest sentimental barroom is for the poet, Paul Laurence Dunbar—a busy-looking bank, several societies and sundry enterprises bear his name. Dunbar was a sort of assistant rooster about a newspaper shop where I worked in Dayton, O., expressing the frailty that presaged his early demise. He often left poems on various desks. None took them seriously because we didn't know poetry nor had any of us apparently the knack of sighting genius two feet away.

Gone, too, is the picturesque shepherd with his roaming flock that gave such a quaint Biblical touch to the wide sweep of south meadow. The white-bearded shepherd with his $10,000 Collier, the gift of the elder J. T. Morgan, posed for many years. His likeness hangs in the National Gallery. There was a golden pool in the park, that 5 to 6 interlude, when the sun hung a mocking ball of red fire, trembled a while, dipped as southward Broadway hazed pink in sudden electric glow!

Now that we have had a good cry over Central Park, we'd like to break down awhile over Broadway's plight, but we are all out of crying towels.

One Thing This Doesn't Change

Pattern of Political Conventions Stays Same.

BY HIRSH PRICE
(Chief of Bureau, The Associated Press, Washington, D. C.)
Time changes all things, national political conventions, 1936 model is as unexceptionable, as full of more lovely details as was its predecessor a generation ago.

Those who try to follow convention proceedings from a distance never will know what a surreal, unreal, never over them, cannot describe, nor can the waves convey, the weird and irrational spirit of the occasion. The Republicans have in Philadelphia, marching and singing. All to what purpose?

Presumably, to perform a sacred duty as every one of the American citizen choose party nominees and down pledges of policy for the next offices in the land. As to carry out, with as little stria and as much ballyhoo as possible, the decision respective leaders have made.

The platforms are written, few men. The nominees are elected beforehand, or chosen by at conferences small enough to be held in hotel bedrooms. Five per cent of the delegates have come great distances, event might as well have at home.

Delegates Abroad Except, of course, that have a wonderful time—me by the special standards of most which apply at national conventions, and nowhere else. They listen enraptured by ing bands which, under circumstances, they would cross the street to hear. The themselves hoarse at or bromides too feeble to stir a meeting.

They rush hither and yonder, which sound screwy, usually result in nothing, whisper meaningless gossip, stand proper, glibly, one in a testing hotel lobby, at small hours of the night at home, they never would dream of being out of bed.

Of course all of this can be explained on the theory that every party is entitled, on great party, to forget it and its inhibitions, a night-club in a big way. (Does seem a strange memory, in view of the rebilities of a national convention making whoopee.)

And another strange thing is that, by and large, these adventures turn out well. More often than not, men are nominated, and able platforms are adopted, is because the real work has done in advance, or else in seclusion somewhere nearby the riot started.

Nice for the Writers This general system of election procedure, adhered to after year by Republicans, Democrats uniformly, does the virtue of making things easier for the newspaper reporter.

After attending a few of quadrennial parties, any newspaperman knows most story by heart. He could have the above about Cleveland, Philadelphia, about 1936 or 1935, and had it ready before he would be familiar with atmosphere, and the decor and the trend of events for day if he met them in the

So far as the Cleveland election is concerned, it also followed the well-established pattern of developing an issue between the old and the liberals. How serious schism will turn out to be campaign no one ever knows now.

Likewise, Cleveland has duced that time-honored bit of republican drama centering differences over the farm plank and a few other party platform. This is second Hoyle, and a Republican election hardly would be complete without it.

Finally, as is customary both parties, it will remain presidential nominee in no issue as he sees them. It candidate, rather than the election, who really counts.

Prepare for Rush Outwardly confident of a majority leaders in house and senate privately are very busy off a rush of legislative duty they expect may be pushed forward when congress convenes again after the Cleveland election.

When they set June 6 closing date their ultimate right of way but that anything—within certain limits—if it promised arrangement.

Under that arrangement, loss of private bills, which modify exchange bill, which 1932 platform plank, through. But when the Speaker By

TEXT OF WIRE LONDON ISSUED

Calls for Currency Expressed in Terms of Gold and Convertible into Gold

CLEVELAND, June 12.—The text of Landon's telegram read by his campaign manager John Hamilton following a press conference at the platform and before Landon's nomination followed.

To the delegates of the Progressive national convention:

My name is to be presented for your consideration as a candidate for the nomination for President of the United States. The platform recommended by your committee on resolutions and adopted by the convention has been communicated to me. I note that according to the terms of the platform the nomination tendered to me is a matter of private honor and public good with an undertone which each candidate is to be true to the principles and program herein set forth.

I am nominated I unqualifiedly accept the word and spirit of that understanding.

However, with that can I say which you and the country are entitled to expect of me I feel compelled before you to present the consideration of my name to that you may be able to do so in my view I could not in accordance with the platform.

Under the title of labor the platform commits the Republican party as follows:

Support the adoption of state laws and initiative proposals to abolish sweatshops and child labor and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours minimum wages and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the Constitution as it now stands.

I hope the opinion of the convention is correct that the time which you have in mind may be attained within the Constitution as it now stands. But if that opinion should prove to be erroneous I want you to know that if I am elected and elected I shall favor a constitutional amendment permitting states to adopt such legislation as may be necessary adequate to protect women and children in the matter of maximum hours minimum wages and working conditions. This obligation we cannot escape the convention advocates a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards. I believe that the first requisite to a sound stable currency is a balanced budget. The second requisite as I view it is a currency expressed in terms of gold and convertible into gold. I recognize, however, that the second requisite must not be made until and unless it can be done without penalizing our domestic economy and without injury to our producers of agricultural products and other raw materials.

The convention pledges the party to the merit system and to its restoration improvement and extension.

In carrying out this pledge I believe that there should be included within the merit system every position in the administrative service below the rank of assistant secretaries of major departments and agencies and that this inclusion should cover the entire postoffice department.

Alfred M. Landon

Following the close of the war he was on a schooner that he owned to all parts of the world traveling frequently to St. Lawrence ports for the first time when the boat on which he was sailing went into port at Charleston S. C.

A still later incident as described in his interview in 1908 involved his participation in the seizure of an English ship. This occurred when the Comet of London landed at Galveston, Texas. The captain, proving to be a traitor, the crew deserted the ship the first night in port but we got the word of it for we fell into the hands of a set of rascals who did not intend to let us go and we were then shipped on different vessels while they drew our pay in advance kept on clothing and delivered us on board of the ships where we could not help ourselves for in these days any attempt at demanding his rights on the part of a poor man meant brutal treatment or death.

Landon to U. S. for War

Still in search of adventure Mr. Landon came to North America with the intention of taking part in the Civil War. Mr. Landon today recalled hearing him tell how he heard the song "Dixie" and feeling the play "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in England had made his opinion for the promise of adventure on this continent.

Upon coming to North America he went first to Canada and while stopping briefly with his countrymen there he gave up his plans to take part in the Civil War. He came to Marion at the age of 27. Mrs. Ryan whom he married in 1887 and settled here. They were parents of 11 children, only three of whom are now living. Mrs. Landon died in 1912.

His real estate and building activities in Marion were routine in a district lying south of Center street between Blaine avenue and Park boulevard. He built a number of residences and some business buildings in that district and helped develop that part of the city when St. Church street ended at Blaine avenue.

He remained in Marion until nine years ago when he went to Los Angeles to make his home with his daughter. He remained active and kept himself posted on current events until about two years ago when his health began to fail.

He was active politically in several national campaigns and was an ardent advocate of prohibition.

Pipe-smoking Charles G. Dawes left there to become comptroller of the currency, vice president and ambassador in England. Henry M. Davenport, president of the Pure Oil Co., also served as comptroller of the currency. Benjamin G. Dawes of Newark, N. J., is chairman of the board of the Pure Oil Co. and Rufus C. Dawes served as president of the Century of Progress exposition.

Those who knew him recall that he came back not as Col. Alfred Woodman Landon but as Alf Landon, greeting some of his companions of his youth anxious to talk with those who knew his former companions and capturing again memories of school and army days.

NOSES OUT SHOVEL TEAM; ANDERSON'S HOMER LONE SCORE

Prospect, Fairfield and Merchant Squads Win Twilight Tilts.

Scores Last Night

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Huber	4	0	1.000
M. S. S.	3	1	.750
Prospect	3	1	.750
Marion Merchants	3	2	.600
Keytown Camp	2	3	.400
Lawrence Markets	1	4	.200
Fairfield	1	4	.200
Excavator	0	5	.000

Huber's Commercial league softball team occupies undisputed first place in the loop standings today, following its 1 to 0 defeat of the Marion Steam Shovel squad on President field last night.

A well-placed game together with clever fielding by both teams kept the Huber-M. S. S. game on even terms throughout the greater part of the contest. Anderson's home run, a fast grounder along the left field line, went through the Steam Shovel's right fielder to give the home team a lead. Later scoring attempts by both teams were turned back by neat fielding performances.

Prospect, after dropping its initial game of the season to the M. S. S. team, has moved in as a definite contender for the top position. The down-count nine has registered decisive wins in its last four contests, and is one of the possibilities to halt Huber's unbroken string of victories when they clash in the final game of the first round of play, June 25. Chapman and Griffith were the heavy sluggers in Prospect's 6 to 0 victory over the Lawrence Markets last night. Both collected two hits in four times at the plate.

Scoring early in the game, the Marion Merchants assumed a 3 to 1 lead over the Keytown Campers as the teams came up for the final inning. The Campers scored one tally in the seventh on two hits, and threatened to tie the count, but Primmer, Merchant hurler, fanned three batters. Primmer struck out five, walked three, and in addition collected two hits in three attempts, one of them an extra base hit.

Excavator's entry in the league, unsuccessful in five attempts this season, fell before the Fairfield team, partly because the losing team was unable to put a full squad on the field. Fairfield scored its 17 runs on 17 hits and blanked its opponents in seemingly easy fashion, but the victory was Fairfield's first in five games.

The scores by innings follow:

Walker Cup Star Uses Brassie Rather Than Driver On Tees

By The Associated Press
DALLAS, Tex.—Methodical Ed White, national intercollegiate champion of the links, is an unusual performer, as most golfers go.

As he says, he "simply plays golf." The slight, 22-year-old University of Texas senior who shot his way in four years from a tiny, nine-hole, sand-greened course in his little home town of Bonham, Tex., to the 1934 Walker cup team, has no pet superstitions, no pet peevs.

His clubs are not all mates and he holds to none of them for sentimental reasons.

On top of that, he refuses to use a driver—"It scares me to death," he laughs. He won't even allow one in his bag, depending instead upon his brassie, which he "guarantees" might be called his favorite club.

But he won't use that stick except on the tee.

White shuns the drivers, not because he fears a "flub"—he simply is able to obtain, paradoxically, perfect, more accuracy and greater distance with the brassie.

"I can get 250 yards every time with my brassie. I hit a ball too low with a driver. But when I'm in the fairway I won't use the brassie, I use a spoon or a No. 4 wood."

SHOVEL SQUAD TO PLAY SPRINGFIELD TEAM HERE SUNDAY

Donahue and Hankle Club To Furnish Opposition in Diggers' Sixth Game.

Opposition for the Marion Steam Shovel team's Sunday afternoon baseball game at Lincoln park will be furnished by the Donahue and Hankle club of Springfield, and it was announced today by E. V. Shoup, manager of the Marion nine. The Diggers have won three of five games this season and expect to find plenty of competition when they oppose the Springfield outfit.

The invading team last year established a record of 24 victories in 32 games played, and its lineup is virtually intact. Opposing Versallies this season, its star hurler, Kiser, permitted his opponents but a single hit. Other teams that have fallen before the Donahue and Hankle team are Delaware, London Prison Farm, Jeffersonville, Dayton Merchants and Wayneville.

The club has been under the management of Ray Schwartz during the last 12 seasons. The regular lineup, which will oppose the Marion team, follows: West, m; Lizza, 2b; Purnell, 3b; Lefel, cf; Colter, 1b; Willoughby, lf; Lynch, rf; Reynolds, cf; Kiser and Sheridan, pitchers.

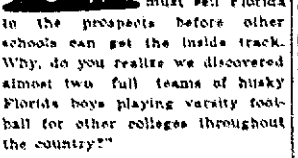

All members of the M. S. S. team have been requested to meet at Lincoln park tonight at 6 o'clock for a final practice session. Following the practice a business meeting will be held, Manager Shoup said.

LIGHTNING KILLS HISTORIC OAK TREE

By United Press
DOYLESTOWN, Pa.—A spreading oak tree, believed to have been 100 years old, has been destroyed by lightning.

The tree's branches afforded shade for nearly all the churchyard at Warwick Presbyterian church. The tree, about which many Revolutionary war legends were told, has been "rebuilt" numerous times.

Barrel of Whisky Made 1827 Wake Riotous Party

His friends tapped a barrel of whisky and gave him a wake the like of which has never been equalled in Marion county and doubtless has few counterparts anywhere in the United States.

Vouched for by a descendant of the man who ordered his own hilarious wake, and by old county histories, the material was gathered by one of the six Marion county workers who are writing for the American Guide, the government handbook which will be published within the next few months under the title of "The American Guide to the WPA."

It was about the year 1827, in Salt Rock township, that the unparalleled wake was held for one of the first settlers of the township, a pseudo-innkeeper, a hard-drinking, boisterous pioneer with a group of about 12 cronies from Little Sandusky and vicinity who met regularly at his inn for drinking parties.

The innkeeper, ringleader of the party in staging the orgy, was taken ill and died at his home which was located about a mile and a half north of Carpenter's Corners on what is called the Old Radnor road leading north to Upper Sandusky.

His will, which was never probated, requested that his cronies tap a barrel of whisky and keep the wake going as long as the liquor lasted. Willingly his friends fell to, to keep his last wish. The drinking started and the idea of roasting a live sheep occurred and was done forthwith, by securing the wool with whisky, hanging up the animal in one of the old-time "stick chimneys," building a fire and letting the animal roast.

Liquor ran freely, the carousal wake gathered impetus and reached the crazed state at which it was decided to hang one of the group. Only the premonition of the victim's wife that all was not well at the wake saved the celebrators from the brand "murderers."

When she arrived on the scene her husband was hanging from one of the joists in the inn, in the agony of death.

For several days and nights the wake ran high, and as the men became inebriated their attention

HOT MOTORS and HOT TEMPERERS

IT'S usually the little things in driving that heat up your motor and cause you to get somewhat hot under the collar yourself.

Little things like a loose or frayed fan belt, for instance. But you and the car will cool off quickly when you tell your trouble to the LINCO man. He has a stock of new fan belts, there's one for your car, and on it goes in a jiffy.

This isn't an advertisement for LINCO fan belts because we couldn't sell enough in a year to pay the cost of the space. Stocking fan belts is a LINCO service. It's also a service when the LINCO man reminds you that your present fan belt looks pretty worn. Replacing it a few hundred miles before it actually gives way is true economy.

TEXT OF REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

The text of the Republican platform follows:

The platform of the Republican party, 1936:

America is in peril. The welfare of American men and women and the future of our youth are at stake. We dedicate ourselves to the preservation of their political liberty, their individual opportunity and their character as free citizens, which today for the first time are threatened by government itself.

For three long years the new deal administration has dishonored American traditions and flagrantly betrayed the pledges upon which the Democratic party sought and received public support.

The power of congress have been usurped by the President. CLAIM COURT CHALLENGED

The integrity and authority of the supreme court have been flouted.

The rights and liberties of American citizens have been violated.

Regulated monopoly has displaced free enterprise. The new deal administration constantly seeks to usurp the rights reserved to the states and to the people.

It has insisted on the passage of laws contrary to the Constitution.

It has intimidated witnesses and interfered with the right of petition.

It has dishonored our country by repudiating its most sacred obligations.

It has been guilty of frightful waste and extravagance, using public funds for partisan political purposes.

It has promoted investigations to harass and intimidate American citizens, at the same time denying investigations into its own improprieties.

It has created a vast multitude of new offices, filled them with its favorites, set up a centralized bureaucracy, and sent out swarms of inspectors to harass our people.

It has bred fear and hesitation in commerce and industry, thus discouraging new enterprises, preventing employment and prolonging the depression.

STRIKE AT SECRET TARIFF ACCORDS

It secretly has made tariff agreements with our foreign competitors, flooding our markets with foreign commodities.

It has coerced and intimidated voters by withholding relief to those opposing its tyrannical policies.

It has destroyed the morale of many of our people and made them dependent upon government.

Appeals to passion and class prejudice have replaced reason and tolerance.

To a free people, these actions are intolerable. This campaign cannot be waged on the traditional differences between the Republic can and Democratic parties. The responsibility of this election transcends all previous political divisions. We invite all Americans, irrespective of party, to join us in defense of American institutions.

We pledge ourselves:

1. To maintain the American system of constitutional and local self government, and to resist all attempts to transfer the authority of the supreme court of the United States, the final protector of the rights of our citizens against the arbitrary encroachments of the legislative branches of government. There can be no individual liberty without an independent judiciary.

2. To preserve the American system of free enterprise, private property, and equality of opportunity, and to seek the constant betterment in the interests of all.

WANT PRODUCTION BARS REMOVED

The only permanent solution of the unemployment problem is the absorption of the unemployed by industry and agriculture. To that end, we advocate:

Removal of restrictions on production.

Abandonment of all new deal policies that raise production costs, increase the cost of living, reduce volume and prevent reemployment.

Encouragement instead of hindrance to legitimate business.

Withdrawal of government from competition with private industry.

Elimination of unnecessary and hampering regulations.

Abolition of such other policies as will furnish a chance for industrial enterprise, industrial expansion, and the restoration of jobs.

The necessities of life must be provided for the needy, and hope must be restored pending recovery.

The administration of relief is a major failure of the new deal. It has been failures of those who most deserve our sympathy. To end confusion, partisanship, waste and incompetence, we pledge:

1. The return of responsibility for relief administration to non-political local agencies familiar with community problems.

2. Federal grants-in-aid to the states and territories, while need exists, upon compliance with these conditions: (a) A fair proportion of the total relief burden to be provided for the revenues of states and local governments; (b) All engaged in relief administration to be selected on the basis of merit and fitness; (c) Adequate provision to be made for the encouragement of those persons who are trying to become self-supporting.

3. Undertaking of federal public works only on their merits and separate from the administration of relief.

4. A prompt determination of the facts concerning relief and unemployment.

Real security will be possible only when our productive capacity is sufficient to furnish a decent standard of living for all American families and to provide a surplus for future needs and contingencies.

For the attainment of that ultimate objective, we look to the energy, self-reliance and character of our people and to our system of free enterprise.

Society has an obligation to promote the security of the people, by affording some measure of protection against involuntary unemployment and dependency in old age. The new deal policies, while purporting to provide social security, have, in fact, endangered it.

PROMISE SECURITY FOR AGED FOLK

We propose a system of old-age security, based upon the following principles:

1. We approve a pay-as-you-go policy, which requires of each generation the support of the aged and the determination of what is just and adequate.

2. Every American citizen over 65 should receive the supplementary payment necessary to provide a minimum income sufficient to protect him or her from want.

3. Each state and territory, upon complying with simple and general minimum standards, should receive from the federal government a graduated contribution in proportion to its own, up to a fixed maximum.

4. To make this program consistent with sound fiscal policy the federal revenues for this purpose must be provided from the proceeds of a direct tax widely distributed. All will be benefited and all should contribute.

STRIKE AT JOB INSURANCE PLAN

We propose to encourage adoption by the states and territories of honest and practical measures for meeting the problems of unemployment insurance.

The unemployment insurance and old age annuity sections of the present social security act are unworkable and deny benefits to about two-thirds of our adult population, including professional men and women, and all those engaged in agriculture and domestic service and the self-employed while imposing heavy tax burdens upon all.

The so-called reserve fund estimated at $11,000,000,000 for old age insurance is to reserve at all, because the fund will contain nothing but the government's promise to pay, while the taxes collected in the guise of premiums will be wasted by the government in reckless and extravagant political schemes.

The welfare of labor rests upon increased production and the prevention of exploitation. We pledge ourselves to:

Protect the right of labor to organize and to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing without interference from any source.

Prevent governmental job holders from exercising autocratic powers over labor.

Support the adoption of state laws and interstate compact to abolish sweatshops and child labor and to protect women and children with respect to maximum hours, minimum wages and working conditions. We believe that this can be done within the Constitution as it now stands.

a nonpolitical and permanent solution. Such a solution cannot be had under a new deal administration which maintains the program to serve partisan ends, to promote security and to limit by coercive methods the farmer's control over his own farm.

Our paramount object is to protect and foster the family type of farm, traditional in American life, and to promote policies which will bring about an adjustment of agriculture to meet the needs of domestic and foreign markets. As an emergency measure, during the agricultural depression, federal benefit payments or grants-in-aid when administered within the means of the federal government are consistent with a balanced budget.

We propose:

1. To facilitate economical production and increased consumption on a basis of abundance instead of scarcity.

2. A national land-use program, including the acquisition of abandoned and nonproductive farm lands by voluntary sale or lease, subject to approval of the legislative and executive branches of the states concerned, and the devotion of such land to appropriate public use, such as watershed protection and flood prevention, reforestation, recreation and conservation of wild life.

3. That an agricultural policy be pursued for the protection and restoration of the land resources, designed to bring about such a balance between soil-building and soil-depleting crops as will permanently increase productivity, with reasonable benefits to co-operating farmers on family-type farms, but so regulated as to eliminate the new deal's destructive policy towards the dairy and live stock industries.

4. To extend experimental aid to farmers developing new crops suited to our soil and climate.

5. To promote the industrial use of farm products by applied science.

6. To protect the American farmer against the importation of all live stock, dairy and agricultural products, substitutes therefore, and derivatives therefrom which will depress American farm prices.

7. To provide effective quarantine against imported live stock, dairy and other farm products from countries which do not impose health and sanitary regulations fully equal to those required of our own producers.

8. To provide for ample farm credit at rates as low as those enjoyed by other industries, including commodity and live stock loans, and preference in land loans to the farmer acquiring or refinancing a farm as a home.

9. To provide for decentralized, nonpartisan control of the farm credit administration and the election by national farm loan association of at least one-half of each board of directors of the federal land banks, and thereby remove these institutions from politics.

10. To provide in the case of

agricultural products of which there are exportable surpluses, the payment of reasonable benefits upon the domestically consumed portion of such crops in order to make the tariff effective. These payments are to be limited to the production level of the family type farm.

11. To encourage and further develop cooperative marketing.
12. To furnish government assistance in disposing of surpluses in foreign trade by bargaining for foreign markets selectively by countries both as to exports and imports. We strenuously oppose so-called "reciprocal treaties" which trade off the American farmer.

13. To give every reasonable assistance to producers in areas suffering from temporary disaster, so that they may regain and maintain a self-supporting status.

KEEP SOME ON FREE LIST
Nearly 90 per cent of all imports into the United States are now free of duty. The other 10 per cent of imports compete directly with the product of our industry. We would keep on the free list all products not grown or produced in the United States in commercial quantities.

As to all commodities that commercially compete with our farms, our forests, our mines, our fisheries, our oil wells, our labor and our industries, sufficient protection should be maintained at all times to defend the American farmer and the American wage earner from the destructive competition emanating from the subsidies of foreign governments and the imports from low-wage and depreciated currency countries.

We will repeal the present reciprocal trade agreement law. It is futile and dangerous. Its effect on agriculture and industry has been destructive. Its continuation would work to the detriment of the wage earner and the farmer.

We will restore the principle of the flexible tariff in order to meet changing economic conditions here and abroad and broaden by careful definition the news of the tariff commission in order to extend this policy along nonpartisan lines.

We will adjust tariffs with a view to promoting international trade, the stabilization of currencies and the attainment of a proper balance between agriculture and industry.

We condemn the secret negotiation of reciprocal trade treaties without public hearing or legislative approval.

DENOUNCE PRIVATE MONOPOLY SYSTEM

A private monopoly is indefensible and intolerable. It menaces and, if continued, will utterly destroy constitutional government and the liberty of the citizen.

We favor the vigorous enforcement of the criminal laws, as well as the civil laws, against monopolies and trusts and their officials and we demand the enactment of such additional legislation as is necessary to make it impossible for private monopoly to exist in the United States.

We will employ the full powers of the government to the end that monopoly shall be eliminated and that free enterprise shall be fully restored and maintained.

We recognize the existence of a field within which governmental regulation is desirable and salutary. The authority to regulate should be vested in an independent tribunal acting under clear and specific laws establishing definite standards. Their determinations on law and facts should be subject to review by the courts. We favor federal regulation, within the Constitution, of the marketing of securities to protect investors. We favor also federal regulation of the interstate activities of public utilities.

Under the new deal, official authority has been given to inexperienced and incompetent persons. The civil service has been sacrificed to create a national political machine. As a result the federal government has never presented such a picture of confusion and inefficiency.

We pledge ourselves to the merit system, virtually destroyed by new deal spoilsmen. It should be restored, improved and extended.

We will provide such conditions as offer an attractive permanent career in government service to young men and women of ability, irrespective of party affiliations.

CLAIM NEW DEAL WASTE IS SHAMEFUL

The new deal administration has been characterized by shameful waste and general financial irresponsibility. It has piled deficit upon deficit. It threatens national bankruptcy and the destruction through inflation of insurance policies and savings bank deposits.

We pledge ourselves to: Stop the folly of uncontrolled spending.

Balance the budget—not by increasing taxes, but by cutting expenditures, drastically and immediately.

Revise the federal tax system and coordinate it with state and local tax systems.

Use the taxing power for raising revenue and not for punitive or political purposes.

We advocate a sound currency to be preserved at all hazards.

The first requisite to a sound and stable currency is a balanced budget.

We oppose further devaluation of the dollar.

We will restore to the congress the authority lodged with it by the Constitution to coin money and regulate the value thereof by repealing all the laws delegating this authority to the executive.

We will co-operate with other countries toward stabilization of currencies as soon as we can do so with due regard for our national interests and as soon as other nations have sufficient stability to justify such action.

PROMISE TO PROMOTE PEACE NEGOTIATIONS
We pledge ourselves to promote

TOPEKA MAYOR CONGRATULATES LONDON

PEGGY ANNE WATCHES DEMONSTRATION

'NOMINATED' FIRST LADY

LONDON LOOKS

While thousands cheered his name at the Republican convention at Cleveland where he was nominated for the presidency, Governor Landon was the recipient of congratulations from a legion of friends at home, including Mayor H. G. Barrett of Topeka, right.

Peggy Anne Landon, her arms wrapped around a steel pole, stood on a railing to gain a better view of delegates to the Republican national convention last night in their demonstration for her father when he was nominated for the presidency.

The dimpled, attractive Theo Cobb Landon, pianist and harpist, and Alf M. Landon were married in 1930, two years before his election as governor. Topeka matrons described her as the "calmest" hostess ever to preside over the Kansas mansion. They have two children. (Associated Press Photo)

And searching eye . . .

Governor Alf M. Landon is shown here in the bosom of his family. The setting is his study in the governor's mansion at Topeka. With him is Mrs. Landon (left); Peggy Anne Landon, 19, the daughter whose mother died when she was a baby and who attends the University of Kansas; two-year-old John "Jack" Cobb Landon and Nancy Jo, nearly 4, shown playing at the governor's feet. HE TALKS IT OVER WITH 'CY'

"Cy," a saddle horse, is the preferred mount of Gov. Alf M. Landon, who has been fond of riding since a boy. In recent months the governor has neglected golf, but he rides "Cy" whenever possible. They are shown above. (Associated Press Photo) and maintain peace by all honorable means not leading to foreign alliances or political commitments. Obsolete to the traditional foreign policy of America and to the repeatedly expressed will of the American people, we pledge that America shall not become a member of the League of Nations nor of the World Court, nor shall American take on any entangling alliances in foreign affairs.

We shall promote, as the best means of securing and maintaining peace by the pacific settlement of disputes, the grant of international arbitration through the establishment of free, independent tribunals, which shall determine such disputes in accordance with law, equity and justice. We favor an army and navy, including air forces, adequate for our national defense. We will co-operate with other nations in the limitation of armaments and control of traffic in arms.

We pledge ourselves to preserve, protect and defend, against all intimidation and threat, freedom of religion, speech, press and radio;

and the right of assembly and petition and immunity from unreasonable searches and seizures. GOVERNMENT OF LAWS
INSTEAD OF MEN
We offer the abiding security of a government of laws as against the autocratic perils of a government of men. Furthermore:
1. We favor the construction by the federal government of headwater storage basins to prevent floods, subject to the approval of the legislative and executive branches of the government of the states whose lands are concerned.

2. We favor equal opportunity for our colored citizens. We pledge our protection of their economic status and personal safety. We will do our best to further their employment in the gainfully occupied life of America, particularly in private industry, agriculture, emergency agencies and the civil service. We condemn the present racial policies which would regiment and ultimately eliminate the colored citizen from the country's productive life, and make him solely a ward of the federal government.

3. To our Indian population we pledge every effort on the part of the national government to ameliorate living conditions for them.

4. We pledge continuation of the Republican policy of adequate compensation and care for veterans disabled in the service of our country and for their widows, orphans and dependents.
5. We shall use every effort to collect the war debt due us from foreign countries amounting to $12,000,000,000—one-third of our national debt. No effort has been made by the present administration even to reopen negotiations.

6. We are opposed to legislation which discriminates against women in federal and state employment. We assume the obligations and duties imposed upon government by modern conditions. We affirm our unalterable conviction that, in the future as in the past, the fate of the nation will depend, not so much on the wisdom and power of government, as on the character and virtue, self-reliance, industry and thrift of the people and on their willingness to meet the responsibilities essential to the preservation of a free society.

Finally, as our party affirmed in its first platform in 1856: "Believing that the spirit of our Constitution as well as the Constitution our country guarantees liberty, conscience and equality of rights among our citizens, we oppose legislation tending to impair it, and we invite the affiliation of all parties, however differing in us."

The acceptance of the notion tendered by this cover carries with it, as a matter of private honor and public faith, the undertaking by each candidate to be true to the principles and program herein set forth.

Market Stands Loaded With New Produce Items

Many stands of Marion were loaded down today with new produce items, much of it first of the season. The fresh supplies of vegetables and fruits that have been coming in from California and other sections of the year here, are being sold at about 10 cents a pound and the apricots at 20 cents a quart.

At the end of the strawberry season, within a week or so, the market will be laid in a plentiful supply of excellent quality home-grown strawberries. This week at 15 cents a quart.

A bunch of Virginia cantaloupes arrived on local market and is going at a nickel. The ripe cantaloupes rolled in from the Pacific coast and the quality is unusually good, market price is two for a dollar. Along with the cantaloupes came honeydew melons.

from California's Imperial Valley. Dealers are getting 35 cents each for the latter.

Valencia oranges have replaced the seedling navel. The Valencias bear a few seeds. Dealers are bragging about the quality of the Georgia watermelons they've received. They're available at 90 cents each.

A new supply of sugarloaf pineapples reached here from Mexico yesterday. They have no core and need little sugar for sweetening. Most of them weigh eight pounds and command a price of 50 cents each, which market men say is reasonable enough considering the quality and the size.

Both hothouse and field tomatoes are here in good quantity. Head lettuce is still a bit scarce, it being between seasons. The Arizona lettuce is due in good quantity soon however.

Accompanying the watermelons from Georgia was a load of peaches. They sell at three pounds for a quarter.

The first Ohio cauliflower made its appearance this week. Other homegrown produce popular in the market houses now is leaf lettuce, spinach, turnips, beets, green onions, button radishes and peas.

“STRAWBERRIES ARE SO CHEAP AND GOOD RIGHT NOW... I'M MAKING LOTS OF JAM, TOM!”

YOU SAVE TIME, MONEY AND WORK WHEN YOU MAKE JAMS AND JELLIES WITH CERTO!

MUCH BETTER FLAVOR, TOO, BECAUSE OF THE SHORT-BOIL!

DON'T let your grocer's fruit bargains slip through your fingers! Now's the time to make lots of jams and jellies... and it's so easy with Certo!

For with Certo, you boil jellies only 1/2 minute; jams only a little longer. The whole job takes less than 15 minutes, after your fruit or juice is prepared!

WHY CERTO SAVES MONEY!

During that extremely short-boil, none of the juice has a chance to boil away... So you average 11 glasses instead of 7; half again more than you would get by the old-fashioned method. A real saving in money!

Short-boiling saves fruit flavor, too, as well as juice. All the flavor stays right in the fruit, instead of boiling away in steam. Your jams and jellies have all the richness of the fresh, ripe fruit! And there is no "boiled-down" taste!

There's no need to worry about failures, either, when you use this easy way. Certo makes any fruit jelly perfectly, and gives jams just the right texture.

This wonderful Certo, that makes jam and jelly making so easy, is a product of General Foods. Every grocer has it. 6c a box.

HALF AGAIN MORE GLASSES, WITH THIS EASY RECIPE!

STRAWBERRY JAM

4 cups (2 pounds) prepared fruit
7 cups (3 pounds) sugar
3/4 bottle Certo

To prepare fruit, grind 2 quarts fully ripe berries or crush completely, one layer at a time, to reduce each berry to pulp. Measure sugar and prepared fruit into large kettle, mix well, and bring to a full rolling boil over hot stove. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 3 minutes. Remove from fire and stir in Certo. Then stir and skin by pouring boiling fruit into cool strainer. Pour quickly into glasses (6 fluid oz. each). Make about 10 glasses. All measurements are level.

FREE RECIPE BOOK

Under the label of every bottle of Certo is a book of easy recipes for jams and jellies. Different from any other recipe book you've ever seen. It's free to all who ask for it. No need to follow recipe exactly.

STORY OF 3 LIVES WRECKED BY GOSSIP THEME OF PICTURE

"These Three," at the Palace through Saturday, is a picture recommendation and one that should drive home to every patron the importance of the nearbreak of gossip, the "I'll call her and tell her" repeating hearsay.

Some will say the character of the child, played to the hilt by 12-year-old Benita Granville, is overdrawn. But no one who has gone through the living inferno that gossip can create or who has been a bystander and watched scandal wreck human lives, will say that the results are overdrawn. Miriam Hopkins and Merle Oberon, two charming young women, start a private school for girls of "just teen" age. It's a happy, wholesome environment and the children are happy until Benita, a child who has the not-unusual recourse to lies to cover her own misbehavior, starts gossip that spreads like wildfire and wrecks the school, publicly degrades the women and a young doctor, Joel McGraw, and nearly ruins forever the romance of Miss Oberon and the young doctor. With the grandmother, Alma Kruger, an audience can sympathize; she is an elderly, aristocratic woman, trusting her granddaughter whose delusion against life is vicious. Her children of her friends against the kind of teachers her granddaughter has told her run the school. In reality the grandchild is an utterly spiteful, morally corrupt youngster. The lives of the three, the two young women and the doctor, are saved by the malice of the school children. In the end the truth is revealed and the story ends happily, although the scourge of gossip and mean scandal has left its mark on the lives of the two young women whose friendship is somehow, for no real cause, still is not the perfect thing it was before.

The Granville child is an actress, and the cast is well-nigh perfect for the enactment on the screen of a Broadway play that was banned in some cities. Alma Kruger as the trusting grandmother and Virginia Sale as the nurse who knows her charge, are outstanding in the supporting cast. All of the school children are well cast. A Popeye cartoon and "Robert Benchley short, 'How to Behave,' with the newcast, round out the program.—H. H.

ECORSE MAYOR ARMS AGAINST TERRORISTS

Black Legion Killer Admits Two Futile Plots To Slay Political Leader.

By The Associated Press. DETROIT, June 12—Mayor William W. Volzine of suburban Ecorse, target of two death plots disclosed by a confessed Black Legion killer, went about his duties armed today against new threats he attributed to the hooded terrorists.

Steel mills in the downtown suburb and automotive plants in Detroit, investigators have disclosed, apparently were the focal points in the Black Legion mobilization.

Continuing the night under wearied on commitment, but Mayor Volzine said their purpose was to gain political dominance by controlling jobs in large industries.

They opposed him during the municipal campaign last spring. Dayton Dean, confessed executioner of Charles A. Poole, a Black Legion victim, told police yesterday that he and three fellow Black Legionnaires drove around the streets of Ecorse two nights before the election, intending to kill Volzine, but could not find him.

Dean named Harvey Davis as leader of the party, and Edwin D. Lee and John Bannerman as other members. All are defendants on charges of slaying Poole.

Volzine's home was bombed on the eve of the election and Dean said that "later, I heard that Davis, Bannerman and Lee plotted that bomb."

Volzine disclosed yesterday that he had obtained a permit to carry a pistol because his life had been threatened.
